Vineyards

The vineyards of the Loire Valley, for our greatest visual pleasure, are dotted amongst numerous castles. The vineyards of the Loire Valley stretch for almost 1000 kilometers, it follows the Loire from its source to its estuary: from the Massif Central all the way to Nantes! Wine lovers can admire these wonders of French architecture, while tasting wines of the Loire.

These wines, have been popular since the 10th century, not only in the old kingdom of France, but also in that of England. The Loire vineyard produces wines of all kinds: red, rosé and dry white, sparkling, mellow ... Some of the best well-known wines we can mention are Chinon, Bourgueil, Pouilly-Fumé, Bonnezeaux ...

Winemakers have strongly contributed to make the Loire a high-end vineyard, producing wines of impressive finesse.
